

The situation is now serious – the decisions you make are of crucial importance

New public advice issued for Kalmar

- Avoid indoor environments where numbers of people may congregate, such as shops, shopping centres, museums, libraries, swimming pools and gyms, with the exception of necessary visits to (for example) grocery shops and pharmacies.

- Avoid attendance at (for example) meetings, concerts, cultural performances, sports training, and sports matches and competitions. However, this does not apply to sports training for children born in or after 2005.

- Avoid physical contact with any people except for those with whom you live. Do not arrange or participate in parties or similar social gatherings.
